Question Of The Week
June 10, 2018

Dear Valued Customer,

Couple of important things: 1) We're redoing our RoboForm webinar because of technical issues the first time around. If you registered before, you'll need to register again. (See below.) 2) The Photo Training Program has turned out to be a ton more work than I had anticipated so it's really a steal at $20. I'm raising the price to $30 starting Friday so if you haven't bought it yet, now's the time. (Also see below.)

We have a pre-order special on a Lenovo 15.6" laptop. Get all the details farther down in this email.

For the Question of the Week, there's a written step-by-step answer and a video answer. Why? Because people learn differently. Use whichever works best for you or try both answers!

Have a fantastic week.

Forward to a Friend

This is your last chance to buy our Photo Training Program for $20. Beginning this Friday, the price will increase to $30. We're just finishing up all the videos and we'll be starting to mail out the Program later in the week.
If you aren't convinced yet that you should purchase this program, watch the video below to get an idea of what's included. Once again, there's about 15 hours of training included.

If you were to purchase training from us - at our best price of $40 an hour - this photo training program would cost $600. But, we're offering these 15 hours of photo training for just $20 until Friday. The price includes the USB drive with all the training plus the postage to mail it to you. To order your photo training program, just click the box below. We've covered photo training in several of our seminars and I'm excited to share this additional training with all of our customers, not just those who live on the Treasure Coast.

Next Seminar

It's time for our summer break from seminars! There will be no seminar in July or August (but we will have webinars). Our next seminar will be Saturday, September 8, 2018. The seminar title is "I Am Not A Crook" and it will be from 10:00 a.m.-12 Noon.

RoboForm

Webinar

Technical problems plagued our webinar last week so we've rescheduled it for this Tuesday, June 12, 2018 at 12 Noon. You will need to sign up again or, if you didn't sign up for the first one, you should do so now! We'll cover the password management tool, RoboForm. Remember, even if you can't attend but you're interested in the information we'll share, sign up anyway and we'll send you the follow-up info. Register HERE.
Pre-order Special

Save $40 by pre-ordering this Lenovo 15.6" laptop. Shipping will start around June 21, 2018. Once shipping starts, the price will go back up to $689. Order now for $649.00 (setup is extra) by calling us at 772-408-4425.

Question of the Week

Question: "On my Windows 10 computer, notices slide out in the lower right-hand corner but, most of the time, they don't stay there long enough for me to deal with them. Can I change the time the notification appears?"

Answer: First, let me apologize to my Mac customers. This is strictly a Windows question and answer.
The answer is, yes, you can change the time of the notification windows. For step-by-step instructions, click the banner. If you'd prefer to see how it's done via a video, click below.
